Jason F. McLendon

Jason McLendon, Founder and CEO

Jason has a passion for custom building—he loves it. He's an idea guy who can see better ways to do things in a building. He's a conscientious, hard worker who has developed a good track record over the years. If he says he'll do something, he does it. I've known him for 15 years and I'd hire him again in a minute.

Paul Beechen
Retired Builder
and Land Developer

I've known Jason for over twenty years, and have referred lots of clients to him, with great results. He is very professional and shares my client service mentality—to do the best for the customer and deliver high-level service. Unlike many contractors, he's quick to respond and get things moving; he's always willing to go the extra mile. He's been connected here for over 30 years, so you can rely on him. He delivers value: excellent work...at a competitive price...in a timely manner.
